

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

For Mrs. Blair
Miss Florence Hutchinson will be hostess Thursday afternoon at the Fairmont Country Club to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club. The honor guest will be Mrs. Jackson V. Blair, formerly Miss Eleanor Fox, whose marriage was a recent event in this city. The afternoon will be spent with bridge, following the serving of lunch, and the honor guest will be showered with kitchen utensils by the club members.

For Miss Kolketa
Miss Katherine Moore was hostess last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Moore, in Gaston avenue to a number of friends complimentary to Miss Elizabeth Kolketa of the high school faculty. The affair was arranged as a surprise for Miss Kolketa to celebrate her birthday anniversary. The guests included members of the faculty of the high school. All were attired in childish costumes and a delightful evening was spent with music and games. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Have Son
A baby son was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John O. Mayo at their home on Dearborn street.

Quota Convention
Probably ten members of the Fairmont Quota Club will attend the third International Incorporated Quota Club convention to be held at the William Penn in Pittsburgh on May 18 and 19. The club very much desires to know at once just who will attend the convention as names must be sent in at once to Pittsburgh. Plans were discussed concerning the convention at the noon luncheon yesterday, and several signified their intention of attending, but it is necessary that the committee at Pittsburgh know as soon as possible just how many to expect from Fairmont.

To Elkins
A number of local women will go to Elkins Thursday, where they will attend the ninth annual convention of the central district of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. Among those who will go will be Mrs. Otis G. Wilson, president of the central district of the district, and Mesdames Joseph Koster, L. N. Yost, C. E. Hutchinson, E. C. Jones, Harry P. Robinson, Walter R. Barnes, Avon Reynolds, E. S. McCulloch, and R. H. Powell. The local delegation will be joined here by club women from Mannington and Morgantown. The club women will get to Elkins in time to register for the opening session and expect to return here on Friday evening.

Return Yesterday
Mrs. Hugh F. Smith and Miss Lucie M. Ford returned last evening from Hot Springs, Ark., where they attended the International Young Women's Christian Association convention, which was held there last week. Mrs. Fred Hickman, who accompanied them, returned here Sunday evening. En route home Mrs. Smith spent a couple of days in St. Louis, Mo., where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Englehart, and Miss residents of this city, and Miss Ford went to her home at Decatur, Ill., for a two days' visit. Thirty foreign countries sent representatives to the convention, and there were 25,000 delegates present from those countries and from cities and towns of the United States.

To Morgantown
D. C. Harkins of the high school faculty and Carl McElfresh will go to Morgantown tonight where they will play with the University Philharmonic Orchestra. Max Donner of the orchestra, and several other out-of-town musicians will assist in the program. One classic to be played will be Beethoven's first symphony.

Celebrate Birthday
Mrs. M. L. Herrington, who is residing with her nephew, Maurice E. Miller at the Reed home on Cleveland avenue, was given a delightful surprise last evening when a number of her friends assembled to help her celebrate the eighty-second anniversary of her birth. A birthday cake with lighted candles centered the serving with refreshments during the evening. Mrs. Herrington with her nephew, L. C. Little, is leaving the latter part of the week for her home in Shepherdstown. Mrs. Herrington is the great aunt of Mr. Miller, while Mr. Little is his uncle.

Auxiliary to Meet
The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will hold a meeting at 7:30 this evening at the American Legion Building. Matters of importance will be transacted.

To Entertain Club
Mrs. Ralph Burt will be hostess on Thursday to the Thursday Bridge Club at her apartment in Rhea Terrace.

To Hold Convention
The annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Morgantown district will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Terra Alta on May 4 and 5. Miss Mary Collins, deaconess of Pittsburgh, will address the Friday afternoon session.

Tournament Enjoyable
Thirteen tables were used in playing bridge last evening at the weekly bridge tournament of the Country Club, and preceding the playing an excellent chicken and waffle dinner was served. Mrs. E. F. Hartley and Mrs. Ernest Hutton were hostesses of the evening.

Court to Meet
Court, Court of Appeals, Catholic Daughters of America, will meet this evening at 7:45 o'clock at the K. of C. Hall in Main street.

Entertains Committee
The executive committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Central Christian Church was entertained last evening by Mrs. Smith at his home on Locust avenue. A business session was held during which plans were made for increasing the membership of the organization which is one of the largest and most active of the entire church, having an enrollment of more than 100. A lemon social will be held in the near future, at which time lemons containing trophies will be sold to the guests, and at the social it is planned to interest those attending in becoming members of the Christian Endeavor Society. The convention of the Christian Churches of the state to be held in Charleston in the near future was discussed, and several of the members will attend the convention as representatives of the society. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one and was greatly enjoyed by those present. At the conclusion of the business session a social hour was enjoyed and a salad sandwich luncheon was served.

Guild Entertained
Mrs. Lily Nigh and Mrs. E. C. Nuzum entertained the World Wide Guild of the Palatine Baptist Church at the home of Mrs. Nigh in Morgantown avenue last evening. Quite a bit of business was disposed of, including the giving of the annual and continuation campaign reports. A conversation hour was spent during which time delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses and assistants.

NOTED MEN TO TALK AT R. R. CHAUTAUQUA

Prominent and able speakers have been obtained for the railroad folks' Chautauqua and jubilee to be given in June on the Old Normal School grounds. The proceeds from the three days' entertainment will be distributed among veteran railroad men who are not working.

The exact date of the Chautauqua has not yet been announced owing to the fact that the Rev. William Sunday, who is to speak, does not know when he can be here. Should his Richmond, Ind., engagement be concluded in time the Chautauqua will be held during the first week in June, and if not the date will be June 15, 16 and 17.

Among the men of national note who have been invited to address the Chautauqua audiences are William Jennings Bryan, known as an anti-Darwin lecturer, and John J. Cornwell, a former Democratic governor of West Virginia. Good music and vaudeville sketches will be other features.

The complete program is now being prepared by the Chautauqua committee, composed of F. E. Sapp, chairman, J. O. Carpenter, A. B. Stealey and Douglas Fleming, and will be ready for announcement within the next few days. Tickets are now on sale in the business district of the city. Special prices are being offered to purchasers of tickets for the entire course.

COMMUNITY CLUB WILL GIVE PARTY THIS EVENING

Anniversary services will be held this evening by the Fairmont Community Club at the Mount Zion Baptist Church. A fine program of entertainment has been arranged. Following the program there will be a chicken supper served for the nominal sum of 25 cents. The general public is invited.

A. Y. Thornton, chairman of the music committee of the Overseas Club, announced today that the minstrel show scheduled to be put on by the club on May 18 will be given until a later date. The postponement from the original date is to give more time to perfect the play that is to be given, according to Mr. Thornton, who is the director.

DISCUSSES LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. N. R. C. Morrow Tells of National Convention in Baltimore.

An interesting talk was given by Mrs. N. R. C. Morrow at the Y. W. C. A. last night to the League of Women Voters. This talk took the form of a report on the Pan-American and National League of Women Voters' conferences held last week in Baltimore. The objectives of these meetings, the enthusiasm shown, the large attendance, the points brought out by the leaders, and the harmonious workings of the entire convention machinery, were clearly outlined by Mrs. Morrow, who gave a most comprehensive review of all the principal features and a graphic description of the leaders themselves, not omitting a detailed description of the chief attraction of the conference, Lady Aster, who won all hearts by her simplicity and democracy, and who brought to her kinfolk and co-workers on this side of the ocean many messages of good cheer and encouragement. Owing to the limited time, Mrs. Morrow's talk was brief, and many interesting features of this notable meeting in Baltimore will be brought out from time to time in future local sessions as the opportunity presents itself.

Mrs. Minna Horan presented an outline of the social side of the conference, including the reception by Governor Ritchie at Annapolis, and the reception given at the White House by President and Mrs. Harding, as well as the affairs arranged by the Baltimore women at the Belvedere Hotel and the Century Roof Garden.

Owing to the lateness of the hour when these reports were ended, the usual quiz on the Constitution was omitted, but will be again taken up at the next regular meeting of the League on Monday evening, May 22, when it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members.

Every state in the Union was represented at the third annual conference of the League of Women Voters, and reports from the various states demonstrated in a remarkable manner the efficient work that is being done all over the country to fit women to assist in solving the problems of the political arena and to make her an independent voter and a responsible citizen.

West Virginia was well and ably represented at this gathering, and her delegates were fired with a desire to bring their local and state organizations to the front in point of membership and intelligent instruction along all lines of constitutional state and municipal welfare. Non-partisanship was the keynote of the convention and the wisdom of its enforcement emphasized.

Closing Exercises at Negro School at Watson Very Fine

The closing exercises of the negro school at Watson were held last evening. A fine program prepared under the direction of Mrs. Julia Berry Price, teacher of the school, was presented. A large and appreciative audience was present for the exercises. At the close of the program I. A. Barnes, county superintendent of schools, presented the members of the graduating class with their diplomas and gave a short talk to the pupils.
